Membership Categories

- Regular: Cities, municipalities, parking authorities, colleges/universities, airports, hospitals, operators, civic centers, retailers
- Affiliate: Manufacturers, suppliers of equipment or products to the parking industry
- Consultant: Professional parking consultants, architects, engineers, financial consultants, or planners
- Associate: Additional representatives of the Regular, Affiliate, and the Consultant members, or any other individual or institution the Board of Directors may elect

Emeritus: This category applies to individuals who have retired or changed industries, but who serve the parking industry.

Annual Workshop Seminar

Every year in September, about 100 members attend this three-day conference. The conference includes seminars, discussions, a golf outing, a banquet dinner, exhibition by vendors, and presentations of awards for the parking design and innovation competition. It's a wonderful time to socialize, learn, and share your experience.

Parking Innovation Awards

In keeping with our mission to learn new and innovative ways to enhance the parking industry, we recognize outstanding innovative projects. The awards are given in the following categories: New parking structures, revitalization, improvement, parking equipment, parking management, and special events.

Networking

This is a great association for members to get to know one another, and seek new ideas and potential business relationships.

Golf Outing

Since 1993, members have been enjoying nature and a good game of golf through the annual golf outing. Traditionally, the outing takes place on the Tuesday of the annual Workshop Seminar begins.

Other Benefits

- Enhanced business opportunities
- Regional and national meeting on parking zone
- Membership Directory
- Share knowledge
- Introduce yourself to a parking professional

The Pennsylvania Parking Association (PPA) took place recently in Harrisburg, PA. The annual conference, held September 19–21, had one of its best turnouts in years, hosting vendors and exhibitors from across Pennsylvania, as well as a number of surrounding states.

Conference activities began Wednesday morning at 8:30 sharp at the Dauphin Highlands Golf Course. The annual Fender Bender Open was once again a great opportunity for attendees to reconnect and participate in a little competitive fun before the official start of the conference.

At 5 p.m., exhibiting opened, along with a cocktail hour for attendees to network. This was immediately followed by the 7th Annual Parking Design and Innovation Awards Banquet and Dinner.

Harrisburg's own mayor of 30 years, the Honorable Mayor Stephen Reed, delivered the evening's keynote speech. The Mayor gave an informative and encouraging address regarding the critical role parking has played over the years in the revitalization of the City of Harrisburg.

Thursday morning, Dave Monroe of Carl Walker Construction presented on the subject of Design Build vs. Construction Management. This was followed by an impromptu discussion session led by International Parking Institute President Kim Jackson, as well as experienced parking professionals Doug Holmes and Linda Kaufmann. One last session before lunch was presented by Linda Kaufmann on the subject of “Credit Card Process, Security, Payment Options, and Risk: Untangling the Mess”.

After lunch, Mike Hansen of DUHET Solutions, Inc. presented on the topic “Electronic Payment Systems: Where We Are and Where We’re Headed.” Attendees were then treated to a tour of the Harrisburg Civic War Museum, courtesy of the Harrisburg Parking Authority. The day concluded with another period of exhibit time and a cocktail reception.

Friday morning, Ed Hahn of Timothy Haas & Associates, spoke on “Planning & Designing for Mixed-Use Parking Solutions.” The conference concluded with a presentation by Doug Holmes on the parking situation on today’s college and university campuses.

Special thanks to all of the speakers, sponsors, and vendors who made this year’s conference a success. The 2008 PPA Conference will take place in Pittsburgh. Make plans today to attend as there is sure to be another great event. See you next year!
